

GAAPP – Global Allergy and Asthma Patient Platform

GAAPP is a global association of organisations advocating the rights and interests of people living with allergies and airways diseases. GAAPP was established in 2011 in Istanbul, Turkey, during the EAACI meeting. Currently, GAAPP consists of 42 member organisations on all continents. The mission of GAAPP is to support patients with allergies and airways diseases throughout the world by protecting their rights and insisting on the duties of governments, healthcare professional organisations and the general public. We have supported this group since 2013.

During 2022:

GSK provided:

EUR 25,000 of funding to support their annual scientific meeting
EUR 25,000 of funding to support their GAAPP Academy Organizational Capacity Building meeting
EUR 30,000 of funding to support their GAAPP Global Awareness Days

Our support represented 10% of their overall income in 2022

During 2021:

GSK provided a total of £70,000:

£70,000 in support of Define Your Asthma 2020 campaign that provided a suite of social media assets for use by member organisations at a local level. The Define Your Asthma project's objective is to educate patients about severe asthma. The work will support patients in their conversations with their healthcare professionals about their symptoms, whilst also supporting patients in having conversations with employers, family and friends about the impact of their condition.

Our support represented 10.62 % of their overall income.

During 2020:

During 2020: GSK provided a total of £76,876:

£17,992 in support of the Global Respiratory Summit that brought together respiratory advocacy organisations to share best practices, to build organisational capacity and leverage the collective voice to advance progress in respiratory disease in the noncommunicable disease policy arena.
£1,799 in support of the LATAM Patient Summit, organised by GAAPP and the Lovexair Foundation, that provided a series of free sessions and workshops to the community. These meetings provided tools and new perspectives to improve training and management in respiratory health in this new Covid context.
£55,000 in support of Define Your Asthma 2020 campaign that provided a suite of social media assets for use by member organisations at a local level.
£2,085 consultancy fee for attendance at GSK's Patient Advocacy & Advisory Board (PAAB)

Our support represented 11.73 % of their overall income.